

Contents

Editorial Note	7
ROBIN STOWELL (Cardiff) Henryk Wieniawski (1835-1880): Polish, French, Franco-Belgian, German, Russian, Italian or Hungarian?	9
DAMIEN EHRHARDT (Paris/Évry) National Schools, Transcultural Mediation and Musical Field in the 19th Century. The Example of the Neudeutsche Schule and the Société Nationale de Musique	29
RENATA SUCHOWIEJKO (Kraków) Franco-Belgian School of Violin Playing. Techniques – Aesthetics – Didactics	37
LUCA AVERSANO (Rome) Violin Pedagogy in Italy between the 18th and 19th Centuries	49
MASSIMILIANO SALA (Lucca) Giovanni Battista Viotti's Quartets from Paris to London	63
ROBERTO ILLIANO (Lucca) Pietro Antonio Locatelli's Influence on Niccolò Paganini	75
MARCIN WĄSOWSKI (Warszawa) Virtuosity in Caprices by Karol Lipiński and Niccolò Paganini	89

Contents

DIETER GUTKNECHT (Köln)
Joseph Joachim and his Influence on Violin Playing in Germany in the Second Half of the 19th Century	103
KLAUS DÖGE (München)
František Ondříček and Virtuosity. Some Remarks on Ondříček's Fantasy on Themes from Bedřich Smetana's The Bartered Bridge	123
LÁSZLÓ GOMBOS (Budapest)
The Main Directions of the Hungarian Violin School in the 19th and 20th Centuries	133
PABLO-L. RODRÍGUEZ (Logroño/La Rioja)
De la manière des zigeuner . On Pablo Sarasate's 1904 Recordings	143
MAŁGORZATA WOŹNA-STANKIEWICZ (Kraków)
Information on Violin Schools and Virtuosi in the Polish 19th Century Historical Writing on Music	153
Index	193